

Lisa Andersen

Director, Research & Knowledge Management

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Lisa Andersen joined Singleton Reynolds in 2017 as Director, Research and Knowledge Management. In this position, she is responsible for conducting legal and business research, facilitating access to legal resources, delivering current awareness updates and briefs, providing internal education seminars, and developing knowledge management tools.

Lisa was called to the Bar of British Columbia in 2004 and practiced law for several years at a Vancouver firm with a focus on insurance coverage, professional liability, and municipal liability. After leaving private practice, she spent six years providing legal research and knowledge management for local law firms and non-profit organizations.

PUBLICATIONS

- Co-author, "New return-to-work obligations for both employers and employees in British Columbia," January, 2024
- Co-author, "New Return-to-Work Obligations for Both Employers and Employees in British Columbia," January, 2024

NEWS + INSIGHTS

- New Return-to-Work Obligations for Both Employers and Employees in British Columbia - Jan 16, 2024 • Co-authored

(604) 673-7442

landersen@singleton.com

EDUCATION

- Bachelor of Arts, Simon Fraser University
- Bachelor of Laws, University of British Columbia
- Masters of Arts, University of British Columbia
- Ph.D. Candidate, University of British Columbia